Classic and Sports Car have a lovely piece in the latest magazine which hits the shops today. Lizzie Pope visited the Library before lockdown and the piece, by Lizzie Pope, entitled Hidden Treasures is a wonderful tribute to our volunteer librarians. She writes 'You'd anticipate the building to be chock-full of 86 years' worth of VSCC paperwork, photographs and ephemera – and so it is, wonderfully so. But it's the surprising finds that delight further. Buy the magazine to read the full article.

Events Update

Prescott and Mallory

We are still finalising the details for these events. More details, including how to enter the track days, should be announced next week. The Prescott track day will run on 1 August without spectators. Mallory is scheduled for 23 August and again is likely to be behind closed doors but we are working in tandem with Mallory Park to look at the changes in guidance and the effect of the local lock down in Leicester.

ASSOCIATION
OF HERITAGE ENGINEERS

The Association of Heritage Engineers (AoHE) are launching their own accredited training framework to allow small specialists, craftspeople and specialist heritage sites the opportunity to not only share their skills and experience but to make it a part of business income in the post covid-19 environment.

Working with the heritage movement they are asking those interested to fill in an 'Expression of interest form' that can be downloaded from the AoHE website, you will then be supplied with course criteria and the fee structure.

The framework will potentially allow AoHE trade members who can meet the course criteria the opportunity to offer an AoHE accredited qualification that will be verified externally in association with the Heritage Skills Academy.

The AoHE hopes that this approach will enable both heritage engineering and artisan crafts people, in some cases working with heritage sites and venues the opportunity to share interact and inspire those attending the courses, skilled people can create their own bespoke courses, which could be a single specialist subject such as carburettors, or could be wider ranging intensive course perhaps introducing people as a foundation to a wider range of heritage skills.

VSCC Regalia – online

New addition to the VSCC Website

What can you buy?

Clothing

Hats

Badges

Books

Binders

Bags

Wallets

Why we set up our online shop?

Normally you would find the regalia van and its seasoned team in the paddock at most of our events.

We would warmly welcome you on to the stand, encourage you to browse our latest limited editions, purchase a windscreen sticker, buy an event programme or to just to have a chat.

Sadly because of lock down and the cancellation of this years events we studiously set out to create the regalia's online shop to compliment the new updated VSCC website.

As well as the VSCC's core lines you will discover a selection of new products that were due to make their debut in 2020.

These include a fabulous canvas messenger bag - great for carrying your laptop or car paperwork, a work bag (that is when we go back to work) or perhaps that weekend overnight bag (when we can escape)!

In addition we have a ripper wallet - ideal for the teenager in your life and a great new colour of polo shirt with the trendy modern VSCC logo
