All credit should go to whoever organised a Northern Rally some years ago as mentioned by Annabel and others on the forum. This was the inspiration for the little teaser but the CoC has no idea if the box entry is in the same place nor if they are the same parameters!

Editor's notes regarding the maze:

We found an alternative route that met the brief, but was 0.3 mile longer. The difference is indicated on the map with a dotted line and would give you different answers to questions 2 and 3 in Section 5. In real life you would have missed a route board or two!

There are a few junctions here which are borderline as to whether they are one staggered junction, or two separate ones. We've followed the HRCR guidelines on this, which can be simplified to: if you could bicycle through a junction without turning a wheel – albeit using the wrong side of the road, then it's a single one - e.g. the crossroads at 232½591. Whereas that at 241590 counts as two separate ones.
